

EBOLA DEEPLY

Botswana Doctor to Lead WHO in Africa · World Bank: World Dangerously Unprepared for Future Pandemics · New Cases Plummet in Sierra Leone

RECENT ARTICLES

View more stories

January 28th, 2015

42 Days Later: Holding onto Zero in Kailahun

Sierra Leone's Kailahun district, which borders Guinea's hard-hit forest region, was one of the country's early epicenters in the Ebola outbreak and at least 645 people there have died. But at the weekend, Kailahun marked 42 days without a single case. How did they do it? Aruna Turay found out.

January 28th, 2015

Ebola. The Executive Summary: January 28, 2015

To give you an overview of what's happening in the Ebola outbreak, we've organized the latest developments in a curated summary.

January 27th, 2015

Far from West Africa, Ebola Still Hits Close to Home

The West African diaspora might be thousands of miles from the epicenter of the Ebola outbreak, but their connections, understanding and knowledge have proven invaluable. From Washington, D.C. and London, Jon Gosier and Khadi Mansaray report.

AROUND THE WEB

Ebolanomics - the search for a vaccine

Jan. 30th, 2015 - IRINnews

