

HAITI

Capital: Port-au-Prince
Population: 10.7 M

175,500
PEOPLE DISPLACED

Hurricane Matthew has displaced around 175,500 people. Serious protection concerns in these shelters put at risk some highly vulnerable people due to their age, gender, disability, sexual orientation, or a combination of factors. Separated and unaccompanied children, single mothers or single-headed households, pregnant or lactating women and girls, families at risk of separation, and people with chronic illnesses have also been identified. Psychosocial distress and lack of privacy, electricity, water, sanitation and hygiene create a situation in which girls and boys face exploitation, abuse, aggression, and sexual and gender based violence.

LIVING IN 307
SHELTERS

AT LEAST
86
ARE SCHOOLS

PEOPLE IN SHELTERS

GENDER BASED VIOLENCE RISK

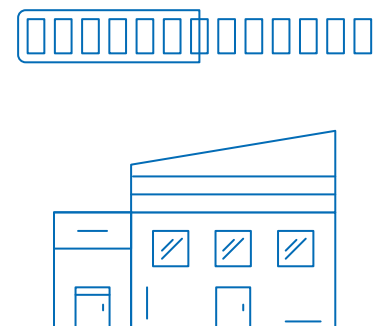

TYPE OF SHELTERS

MORE THAN 20,000
CHILDREN OUT OF SCHOOL

SHELTER STATUS

SOME SHELTERS ARE
2 OR 3 TIMES
OVER THEIR CAPACITY

CHALLENGES

AT LEAST
13 SHELTERS
ARE VOTING PLACES

The boundaries and names shown and the designations used on this map do not imply official endorsement or acceptance by the United Nations.