

Early Childhood Development: the joy of being a parent is like no other

12 October 2016 - This TV spot follows the early years of a child's life and shows how both parents play an important role in parenting. By playing, talking with, and listening to their parents, children learn and develop their self-confidence, which can contribute to children's wellbeing throughout their lives.

Early Childhood Development: the joy of being a ...

