

- ▶ Home
- Videos
- Blog
- News
- About us

@GlobalHealth_TV

1st January

Interivew with Dr. Chengwei Zhang

Share Video Embed t f +1

Artificial intelligence could be used to standardise care in remote areas for prostate cancer. Dr. Chengwei Zhang from Nanjing Drum Tower Hospital, China has developed a smart software which can diagnosis prostate cancer as accurately as a pathologist.

Global Health Highlights

Faith Groups Do More to Promote "Healthy Timing & Spacing of Pregnancies"

The role of religious organizations in promoting and advocating for voluntary modern methods of family planning is gradually gaining more acceptance both in the religious and secular. [...]

Breastfeeding Becomes Controversial Again Even Though Breast Is Still Best

Breastfeeding - one of the most documented and proven best practices in global health - has become controversial again [...]