TEACHCLEAN

“No one should get sick seeking care. And yet globally, hundreds of millions of people every year are affected by health care-associated infections (HAIs), many of which are completely avoidable. No country or health system, even the most developed or sophisticated, can claim to be free of HAIs.”

The TEACH CLEAN package is a resource designed to address the training of health-facility cleaning staff in low- and middle-income countries.

The TEACH CLEAN package presents information and materials required to deliver comprehensive, participatory training on safe environmental cleaning, applying aspects of essential IPC for these tasks. The package is tailored towards use with low-literate cleaning staff but can be applied to wider facility staff.
