WORKING IN CRISES AND CONFLICT

USAID is the world's premier international development agency and a catalytic actor driving development. USAID advances U.S. national security and economic prosperity, demonstrates American generosity, and promotes self-reliance and resilience. The purpose of foreign aid should be ending the need for its existence through assistance to help partner countries on their own development journey to self-reliance – looking at local communities, and establish self-sufficiency.

Our efforts are both from and for the American people.

USAID demonstrates America's good will around the world; increases global stability by addressing global challenges; opens new markets and generates opportunity for trade; creates innovative solutions for once unmet challenges; saves lives; and advances democracy, governance, and peace.
