

WARNING SIGNS OF SEVERITY IN DENGUE

Many people with dengue can be cared for at home with adequate rest and hydration. But go immediately to the nearest medical center if you live in a dengue-prone area, and a few days after getting sick with fever, you experience:

A drop in body temperature
(below 38°C/100°F)

Accompanied by any of the following:

- Intense abdominal pain
- Restlessness
- Bleeding gums
- Fatigue
- Drowsiness
- Blood in vomit
- Persistent vomiting

Watch out for the warning signs of severity in dengue!

Early and appropriate medical care saves lives!
